

CORPORATE COMPANION PROGRAM

Good morning Sindan employees.

If there's anyone out there that doesn't know who I am, you're fired. Just kidding, I'm the CEO of Sindan Herbert Proust and I'm here to share a new program with you that I think will be exciting for all of us.

The morale and well being of our employees, you, is very important to the executive leadership team here. We realize that you often are required to spend long hours at work in stressful situations with deadlines. Your bosses expect, in fact demand the kind of superior performance that has become the hallmark of this organization. We are aware of the pressure you feel due to the competitive job market out there and the standards you have to meet to retain your position.

Studies have shown that all of these issues in today's employment arena have a negative impact on your personal and social lives outside of work. This imbalance spills over into to your performance and your interactions with your coworkers no matter how hard you work to prevent it.

With all of this in mind I am proud to present the new Corporate Companion Program. Sindan has hired a subsidiary of the Mingle group to provide us with our own in house computer dating service. This will allow you to engage in corporate sanctioned social activity with companions who share the pressures and obligations you have. A pilot program conducted by Monsanto resulted in improved performance at work due to a happier more fulfilled workforce.

So without further ado, let me present Mr. Fincher from Mingle to explain the new service.

Hello Sindan, I am John Fincher and I think we should all give it up for Mr. Proust.

We at Mingle are very happy to see that corporations are finally starting to get it. This is not our parents world anymore our places of employment have become much more central to our lives in the modern economy. This means that things people used to do on their own now require a push from the employer or they just don't happen. In fact things like dating are discouraged by most companies today. Management has come to see them as a dilution of effort and focus that should be applied to the workplace. Studies however have shown that this is not the case, in fact the removal of past forms of social interaction have had a negative impact on productivity.

Look around at your coworkers do you see anyone who looks happy and fulfilled. Well of course you do now how many of those are in a loving and committed relationship? That's right nearly all of them.

Those of you who don't have that sort of situation to go to are nearly all effected by the grind of having nothing but a short time to eat and sleep and then back to work. Sindan has recognized this and we are going to fix it.

Those of you out there that are single are going to be encouraged to join the new S. H. App where you will be paired up with coworkers in order to find others who are leading lives similar to your own. The company is going to provide you with both time and facilities to create profiles for this application as part of their commitment to improving your lives. Initially this service will only be available to the single employees of the firm although that may change in the future if those couples that have a well let's say more adventurous lifestyle create enough demand for it. In addition there will not be any capability to provide matches for those with same sex orientation in the initial release of the app, but this too is something that we can revisit at Sindan's behest.

We at Mingle are very proud of the work that we do and as Mr. Proust said, we were able to roll this out at Monsanto and the change there has been truly breathtaking. People have been able to join there coworkers in those loving committed relationships that nearly all of us crave and hundreds of employees who haven't been so fortunate have still found new friends and people they can indulge in other pursuits with that make their lives better and richer.

In short if any of you are old enough to remember it there was an old advertising jingle and the gist of it was, you don't have to be lonely anymore. Thanks for your time and attention, your managers and supervisors will have more information on the new program and how you can sign up.

Sindan S. H. App

Guidelines

- 1) Every employee participating in the new Sadie Hawkins App will be given time on the clock to go to the companion center on the 14th floor. They will have photos taken and professional staff will be available to help them develop a profile.
- 2) The App will be available for use on the clock using company workstations however such use cannot interfere with the completion of your assigned duties.
- 3) Membership in the App signifies your commitment to respond to every date request that is received however the response does not have to be an assent.
- 4) All members are required to go on at least 2 App arranged dates per week.
- 5) As the name implies male members are not allowed to solicit dates with the female members. All date requests will come from a female member.
- 6) Male members who have already met the 2 date requirements will be removed from the pool of available dates each week until all male members have met this requirement.
- 7) Female members who have been on no App arranged dates by Saturday will be randomly assigned to dates on Saturday and Sunday. Female members who have only one date by Sunday will be assigned a random date to fulfill their quota.
- 8) Monday morning any member without full participation the previous week will receive counseling from a superior.
- 9) The morning following any date all participants are required to fill out a satisfaction survey in the App.
- 10) Members who consistently fail to have satisfactory dates will receive counseling from a superior.
- 11) Any single employee who wishes to opt out of membership in the App must procure a signed exemption from an executive employee.

Mr. Craig you wished to see me, sir.

Yes Devon come in. Have you received your copy of the guidelines for the new S. H. App?

Yes sir, and I'd like to opt out so where can I get the form for your signature.

Whoa Devon, Sindan has put a lot of resources into this program and I would need some concrete reasons before I could approve you to opt out. Why don't you tell me what is bothering you about the program.

I just don't have time Mr. Craig. I have to put in 12 to 14 hours a day to complete my duties for you and I am here at least 2 Saturdays a month and sometimes I even have to be here on Sunday.

Devon no one appreciates your dedication more than I do, but this program is important to corporate and as the guidelines indicated I will allow you to monitor your dating page at your desk. Time will also be made available for you to go on your dates just notify me in the morning that you have one and I'll make sure your out of here on time.

OK sir, that's very generous of you and the company but this just isn't for me sir, I don't have the nerve to go and request dates from guys.

Devon all you have to do is pick a profile and click a button.

Mr. Craig please I am not trying to be difficult but I would be required to go on 2 dates every week. The part about the choices of who you can ask being reduced as the week goes on and possibly being sent on dates with guys you didn't even choose scares me sir. Why do we have to do all the work too why can't the guys ask us?

I can see your problems with this Devon and to be truthful its probably partly my fault. I should have explained this to you instead of just assuming that you would be able to understand it. Now pay close attention, the purpose of this program is to enrich your life which will make you a better and happier employee and not just your life but the lives of all of the single employees that work here.

Now for this to work everyone has to buy in and participate so I can't grant you some special exemption for no real reason because you would be just the tip of the iceberg. Many if not most of the eligible employees wouldn't participate and give the program a chance.

Studies have shown that guys have much more to lose psychologically than girls during the first approach. The fear of rejection is intense and the shattering blow to the ego if rejected can be devastating the program eliminates that problem by allowing the girls to make this choice and those same studies show that guys are much less likely to turn down an invitation from a girl than the other way around. In addition this gives our girls the opportunity to choose who they want.

The 2 date requirement goes back to point one, if there were no obligation many of you would just sign up as required but then never make any use of the App. Sindan is committed to giving this program a fair shot and that means everyone giving it their best shot.

The provision for the choice pool to shrink is simply to ensure that every eligible male employee gets a fair shot at enjoying the benefits of the system. If it was the other way around the pool for the guys to ask would shrink as well.

But sir that could force me to ask someone on a date that I don't even like.

True Devon, but if you get into the spirit of things and find your dates early that shouldn't be a problem and sometimes we all have to make sacrifices for the good of the company. Finally the evaluation system will help the system to try and make better pairings and it will help the management to identify anyone who is actively trying to sabotage the program in the hopes that it will be abandoned.

I understand sir, but it is daunting and it seems invasive into to what little private life I have left.

Well Devon that is one way to look at it, but it does imply some things about your commitment to Sindan. You assured me when we hired you that you would be flexible when it came to your duties and hours. The company is generously contributing time to you for your private activities and spending a lot of money to ensure that you take that time to do something more than eat and sleep and that you have someone to do it with. There are always other places you can work Devon and almost all of them have no program like this.

No sir, I'm grateful for all that the company does for us, I'm sorry for my poor attitude.

Very well Devon, I'm going to be keeping a close eye on you to make sure your doing your best to make this program work.

Hi, you must be Peter, I'm Devon. I have an appointment to get my profile done.

Oh yeah Peter nice to meet you, um you do realize that we're going to be taking pictures of you right?

Sure why is something wrong.

Well we want the guys to actually want to hook up with you. This natural look is all good but come on babe I know you can do better than this.

Look Peter I can decide how I should look for my profile and your comments are not necessary or appreciated and I have a name.

Two things "babe", you need 2 dates a week and if you want to pick who they are you better make sure the ones you pick say yes. Second if you insist on doing your profile looking like a well let's just say less than even choice grade meat I have to call your boss and he has to come up and approve it.

No no, that's OK I can come back later after I've spruced up.

Sandra, get your ass in here. Not to worry I've got someone here to work on you. Oh and it's OK if I call you babe right, too many bitches to remember names.

Fine let's just get this over with.

Here fill out this questionnaire, while Sandra works on you. I only have a half hour per chick so get a move on.

What the hell is this, is it some kind of joke I won't put this stuff on my profile.

Listen babe this is the standard profile fill it out or explain it to your boss. Anymore hassles and you can explain to your boss why your appointment was cancelled. I don't have time for this shit.

Hell Sandra you did it again.

Thanks boss yeah this one tarts up pretty good.

OK let's take some shots. Good smile, look interested.

Come on be appealing, your eyes should be saying that this is going to be the time of his life.

Can we be done now please sir?

Go see Sandra.

The blue dress boss?

Yeah a few shots in that and we're done.

Stand in front of the green screen, I'll add an outdoor background after on the computer.

That's OK but enough with the shy and embarrassed, give me a smile, good.

Now uncross your arms and give me a come hither look, OK good enough that's all we've got time for.

Go change then get back to work Sandra will timestamp your slip before you go.

It was Wednesday as she nervously waited for her date to show up. This was the 3rd man she had asked, the first two had turned her down.

Hi Keith, I'm Devon and it's nice to meet you.

Well we'll see how nice it is Devon, I've got to tell you that your profile is not very promising but the rest of the girls were just as bad. Is that what you call dressing for fun, hell bitch what it looks like is I can't be bothered to care what I look like.

How about if we just try to have a nice date without any preconceptions.

Let's go, most of the movies start pretty soon. By the way we're not watching any limp girlie shit, understand.

Sure um is this how you always treat your dates.

Listen bitch should we just call it a night I'm not going spend my evening listening to you carp about what you think I'm doing wrong.

No, I was just wondering, don't take offense. I just think a different approach might work better for you.

He whipped the car through a U-turn at the next light. That's it bitch, corporate better get this shit straightened out or this program is going down in flames.

Look I'm sorry Keith, I don't know why your so upset but maybe it's for the best if we just call it a night. I hope you have better luck next time and find someone that's more um compatible.

Oh don't worry about me bitch I'll be just fine.

Devon please bring me my coffee.

Yes sir Mr. Craig.

How was your date last night.

It wasn't much of a date sir, I don't think the guy I picked will have much luck with any of the girls here sir.

Really and why is that dear?

He was really insulting sir calling me names and then getting angry for no reason.

Hmm, well that certainly wasn't his take on how the evening went. Let me read you his satisfaction survey, which you failed to fill out even though it's required.

Picked up my date at a café as she obviously didn't want me to know where she lived. She started by insisting that we see the movie she had already picked no matter what I wanted. At the theatre she insisted on buying $40 worth of junk at the concession stand then inside she wanted an empty seat between the two of us. At this point I told her that this just wasn't working out that I would take her home and perhaps we would both have better luck on another date. Ms. Ferguson as she insisted on being called, said I was a loser and proceeded to berate me profanely. I am forced to rate this date as unsatisfactory.

Well Devon what do you have to say for yourself.

Mr. Craig it simply isn't true, not any of what he said.

It really doesn't matter, the bottom line is that you received an unsatisfactory rating on your date. I'm going to give you a pass this time since it was your first date but it better not become a habit dear.

Yes sir, I'll try to do better.

Do more than just try Devon. I looked at your profile and quite frankly it's very disappointing Peter was a magician with the photos but your responses on the questionnaire, it's like your goal is to have all your dates show up thinking you're a frigid bitch before they've even met you. Well it's your choice what you want people to think of you.

Saturday rolled around before someone else finally accepted a date request from me. I had found out that the results of the satisfaction surveys came up right on your profile page so that bastard Keith had screwed me over twice.

Hey I'm Raoul you must be Devon.

Yes it's nice to meet you Raoul.

Hey whatever, I don't really want to go to the movies, there's nothing good out right now anyway. I know this cyber place over on third, you like video games.

Sure Raoul, that sounds great, she reached out and cautiously took his hand. How do you want to get there.

It's not that far we can walk.

OK, you don't mind if I hold your hand do you.

No it's cool, he tugged her down the sidewalk to the computer place. Walking in he found a couple of empty terminals, hey you wouldn't mind paying would you Dev?

Well uh sure Raoul my treat, hell this was going to make a hole in her budget.

Hey that was cool Dev you were starting to get the hang of it at the end.

Thanks it was more fun than I thought.

Hey well I guess this is goodnight then um it was pretty cool.

She started to shake his hand then remembering her boss and what another unsatisfactory date might do, Raoul would you like to kiss me?

Hey cool, he grabbed her arms with his sweaty hands and pulled her in for a wet sloppy and slightly disgusting kiss. Maybe we can do it again sometime.

Well you never know, it was great maybe we'll see each other around.

I couldn't keep the smug look of triumph off my face Monday morning. Relief wiping away my apprehension Sunday morning when I saw Raoul's satisfactory review. I knew this was a stupid attitude and would have repercussions but I was just so happy with the way things had worked out with Raoul that I couldn't help it.

Sure enough Mr. Craig dropped the hammer on me right after lunch.

Devon I have a new project for you, unfortunately it is going to take up all your time until it's completed probably Thursday night. I know this will interfere with your new dating life but the needs of the company still trump everything else.

Yes sir, does this mean I don't have to do 2 dates this week?

No, of course not dear you'll have Friday and all weekend to fulfill your requirement to the program. After the way your last date went, good job by the way on getting a satisfactory review, you should have no problems at all.

Yes sir, but by Friday the available date pool will be very limited.

Look at as an opportunity, this will be your chance to show compassion by helping out those guys that are traditionally less successful with interpersonal relationships. I know most of them will probably be more demanding than that um gentleman that you found last week, but I'm sure you'll be able to find some way to make them happy. After all this is what the program is all about making our employees happy.

Yes sir, I took the folder thinking I would make time to look after I got home even if it did cut me short on sleep.

I expect you to be here till at least 10 each night working on this Devon, it's too bad the App goes down at 9:30 for maintenance but like I said I'm sure you'll be able to cope. That's all you're dismissed.

I tried to keep the shock off my face when the date I'd managed for Friday night showed up, but I saw the anger that briefly washed across his face as he registered my reaction. The editing his profile photographer must have done had left me completely unprepared for the reality I was now faced with.

Hi I'm Devon and you must be Mark. I'm so pleased to meet you.

Yeah I could tell. You just want to go to the movies?

Yes I think that is a good activity for a first date, we can see anything you like.

I know just the movie, come on you can pay for the taxi.

Sure, but I hate to admit it but that's going to eat up the rest of my cash for the week.

Shit, OK, but if I have to put out for this date than you better be worth it.

The cab took us across town to an older theatre that was playing some cult classic. My stomach sank when we went in and I saw the interior had been remodeled it was filled with couches and tables with chairs instead of traditional theatre seating. I started for one of the tables but Mark grabbed my hand and pulled me to one of the couches in a corner.

We're sitting here, he pulled me down between him and the arm of the couch with his thigh pressed up against mine so I had no room to slide away from his touch.

She started the long walk back to her place unable to afford the fare to get a cab again. This date had been a nightmare she had let Mark kiss her and even opened and let his tongue in when he wanted she had managed to keep from pushing him off when he started groping her breasts even though it made her skin crawl, but when he tried to push a hand under her dress to get to her breast without the dress and bra between she had started fighting him off. They had spent another hour in the place finishing the film while she continued to allow him to kiss her but fended off his sporadic attempts to get under her clothing. Now she trudged along dejectedly afraid that it had all been for nought.

On a brisk Saturday morning she met Eddy out by the lake. After reading her unsatisfactory review from last night she was praying that she would be able to make this guy happy and offset it somewhat before she had to talk to Mr. Craig Monday morning.

You're Devon right?

And you must be Eddy nice to meet you.

Well I guess we'll see about that, he gestured with a basket, I brought some food and we ought to started, hope you like hiking it's going to take a couple hours to get around to the other side of the lake.

Wow, um sure, I wish you had said something though I would have worn better shoes for this.

Are you going to complain all day, if so we can just go our separate ways now.

No, no sorry I didn't mean to be complaining just would have prepared better.

Our outdoor adventure went better than the night before I guess mostly because I let him get to second base after lunch and we spent a couple hours of intense making out before hiking back around the lake. I still wasn't sure that I was going to get the satisfactory I needed since I had deflected him those times when he tried to get to the end zone.

I stood alone in the parking lot waiting for the bus, he had made no effort to let me keep up on the way back and the lot had been empty by the time I arrived. My legs were sore from the unaccustomed exercise and I flopped onto the bench gratefully. Looking around to make sure I was alone I surreptitiously began to gently rub my aching breasts, Eddy's technique was rough and heavy handed, so my breasts had been mauled and not caressed. Please god let him give me a good survey, I cringed at the thought of having let these dates, no hell these strangers treat me like a toy and having nothing to show for it on Monday.

Devon in my office please.

Yes sir, Mr. Craig.

Why is there another unsatisfactory survey on your profile girl?

I'm sorry Mr. Craig, I really tried but Mark just didn't seem to like me sir.

It says here that you were frigid and standoffish, that you made him pay for the movie than wouldn't give him anything in return for his investment. Are you saying that he's lying?

No sir, it's just, well we sat right against each other on a couch in the theatre and I, well I made out with him sir, god this was so embarrassing, but he couldn't be satisfied.

Couldn't be or you just weren't willing to. Never mind, now this Eddy. He gave you a satisfactory but from reading his comments it seems like he mostly did just because he felt sorry for you and didn't want to get you in trouble.

No sir, we had a good time, and we were well um quite intimate I think.

Apparently you were quite the tease in fact Devon, but he says that after you spent a good portion of the afternoon getting him worked up there was no satisfaction to be had.

Sir really I wasn't...

That's enough, he sat on the couch, you know the drill Devon.

Yes sir.

After a crisp dozen swats he let her up. You will do better this week.

She was determined that there would be no negative survey after this date. The twelve swats while painful, there were still bruises on her ass, were more just in the way of a warning than a true punishment from Mr. Craig.

She stopped at the locker room and changed into something she didn't think she would've ever worn in public then went down to the IT shop to pick up her date they were going to the movies straight from work.

Hi Rob, are you ready to go.

Sure, uh wow you're the hottest one I gone with yet.

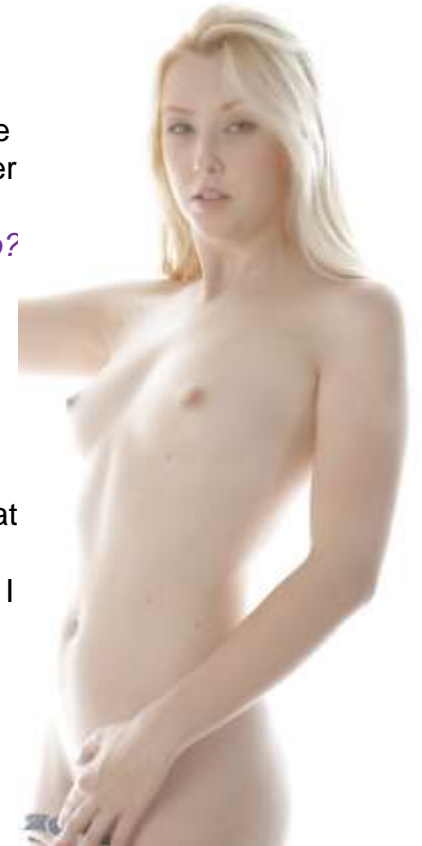

Um, thanks that's uh nice of you to say.

We walked to the theatre and Rob actually watched the movie. started to relax and just watch too but than I shifted onto a sore spot on my butt and leaned over to lay my head on his shoulder

We started walking after it ended, do you live around here Rob?

Well uh yeah just a few blocks.

At his place I smiled and let my shirt slip off my shoulder. He was kind of sweet and just stared in an awestruck sort of way. With some coaxing I ended up nude and let him touch me in some places I thought would only be for someone special but at least he didn't try to go any farther. I was sure I would get a good survey out of him but an hour in the shower at home and I still felt dirty, like I had whored myself out.

Mr. Craig could I have a minute sir.

Sure Devon what's on your mind? Oh by the way I see you got a satisfactory last night good job.

Well sir it's about that, I really don't think I am cut out for the program.

We've already spoken about this Devon if that's all...

No sir, I mean sir well maybe if I could just be... she looked away overcome by the shame of what she was about to propose, but she couldn't keep putting herself out for strangers every night... um your special girl than I wouldn't really be single anymore would I.

Are you asking me for a sexual relationship Devon.

Oh god, yes sir, I'll sleep with you.

Undo your blouse and lose the bra, he lost his pants and grabbed her hair forcing her to look up at him, you realize our relationship will be totally different I will expect you to be available for me whenever and you will not stop servicing me when told to no matter the situation.

Please not... he frowned and she thought of more Marks and Keiths... I mean yes sir.

Mrs. Landry come in here, he called the receptionist in as he pulled Devon's mouth down onto his cock. She strode toward the office shock spreading across her face as she registered what was going on.

There Devon that should make sure the word gets out about your new status and now we can make everything official with you first office fuck.

Well that was adequate girl but I will expect better in the future. You can get that exemption form from HR and I'll sign it now, just remember it can always be revoked.
